PLATT-ODELL PEACE TALK

IN WHICH STATE NOT NATIONAL POLITICS WAS THE THEME.

"Not a Word to Say" Have Governor and Senator, but Their Friends Say They Realize This Is a Time for Harmony and Gov. Odell's Great Opportunity.

Gov. Odell went from his headquarters in the Republican Club yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock to Senator Platt's rooms in the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The Governor and the Senator talked until 7 o'clock, and when they parted they gave it out that neither was to say a word as to what had occurred.

The Governor and the Senator were bombarded with questions as to what had been their chief topics of conversation, but to all questions they had one answer, "Not a word to say, if you please."

Of course, the Governor and the Senator have personal friends, and it was not a difficult task to ascertain pretty nearly what happened between them. It should be put this way, in the estimation of a Republican who said he was thoroughly familiar with the conversation;

Serator Platt has always had infinite trust in Gov. Odell. Senator Platt first made Mr. Odell executive chairman of the Republican State committee, and he next made him chairman of the Republican State committee, and in 1900 Senator Platt nominated Mr. Odell for Governor, despite the claims of the friends of Timothy I. Woodruff. In 1962 Senator Platt again insisted upon the nomination of Mr. Odell for Governor.

"The Republican party of the State of New York is not an asset of either Senator. Platt or Gov. Odell, but things have been going wrong for a little time, and we all know, especially since the election in New whow, especially since the election in Aev York cit'r on Nov. 3, that if a State election were to be held to-day, New York State would be Democratic. Of that there isn't the slightest doubt. No two men recognize this better than the Governor and the

From the hour that Mr. Odell was made chairman of the Republican State committee, and during the succeeding days and years that he has been Governor of the State of New York, Republicans from all over the State have gone to Schator Platt and desired to discuss with him various propositions as to the welfare of the Republicans. desired to discuss with him various propositions as to the welfare of the Republican party. The Senator in his early days of leadership was a master of detail, but during the last few years to most of his visitors he has said:

'See Ben. Talk with Ben about it, and whatever Ben says will be all right."

whatever Ben says will be all right."
"In (his way," continued this important Republicau, "Gov. Odell has taken from off the shoulders of Senator Platt many on the shoulders of Senator Platt many of the details of leadership, and it should be said that Gov. Odell is quite as much of a man for detail as Senator Platt was a number of years ago. But the trouble has been within the last year or so that some of Mr. Odell's friends in the State of New York have begun to believe that Mr. Odell was the real Republican leader of the State. vas the real Republican leader of the State. was the real Republican leader of the State, and because of certain appointments within the last year or so it was apparent to many Republicans that the Governor himself believed that he wore the reantle of Platt as Republican State leader.

of Platt as Republican State lender.

"Then there have been little personal differences which have been peddled to the Governor on the part of his friends, and to Senator Platt on the part of his friends, and when Senator Platt arrived in New York city last night from Washington unexpectedly, the situation in the Republican affairs of the State of New York was never more acute since the days of the old Stalwart-Halfbreed fight, twenty years ago.

election a year ago than Senator Platt himself, and Gov. Odell has told Senator Platt this over and over again. But the situation has been drifting and drifting until from outward appearances Gov. Odell has shunted Senator Platt aside absolutely. and has assumed the reins of leadership Senator Platt, you will remember, said last spring: If Gov. Odell can become leader of the Republican party of the State of Many Republicans have believed that Gov. Odell, in his appointment of Roden-beck of Rochester to be Judge of the Court of Claims in place of the late Charles T. of Claims in place of the late Charles T. Saxton, and in his appointment of Nathan Miller to be Supreme Court Justice, and the elevation of Otto Kelsey, and Timmerman of Buffalo to be Kelsey's deputy, and his disposition to get rid of Hilliard as Deputy Excise Commissioner for New York city, had begun to set up in business for himself. The very grave question arises as to who had been advising Gov. Odell, because Senator John Raines, the leader of the Republican majority in the Senate at Albany, and other important Re-Senate at Albany, and other important Re-publicans have believed for some little time that the situation in the State of New York concerning Republican domination

"No question of national politics," con-tinued this important Republican, "was discussed between Gov. Odell and Senator Platt at their conference at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-night. It is too early to bring up questions of that character. Neither did the Governor nor the Senator discuss entirely patronage. Both are Republicans, and both want the Republican party to and both want the Republican party to win in the State next year.

"You must remember that from the hour the polls closed on Nov. 3 Republican politics, not only in New York State but all over the Union, broke out more severely than in any recent year. The Republican party of the State of New York goes into an election next year for President and Governor and all State officers, for Congressmen. Senators, Assemblymen, and the Legislature is to elect a United States Senator to succeed Mr. Depew. Very few at first glance appreciate the importance of Republican harmony, not only in the State of New York, but in States like Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey, Illinois and Confidence in the Hour was that her hair reskept lawn in the more "What have you hair?" asked Dr. Hyde tanyou hair? saked Dr. Hyde lawn in the more washed to hair? Saked Dr. Hyde lawn in the more washed to hair? Saked Dr. Hyde lawn in the more washed to hair? Saked Dr. Hyde lawn in the more washed by the lawn in the washed by the lawn in the more washed by the lawn in the washed by the lawn in the lawn in the life by the lawn in the lawn in the washed by the lawn in the wash diana, New Jersey, Illinois and Connecticut.

"I am very pleased to say to-night,"
"continued this influential Republican, "that the talk between Gov. Odell and Senator Platt cleared away a good many cobwebs and it would be a good thing if the Governo acted on his ewn judgment conetimes, and did not listen to Republicans who have never been friendly to Senator Platt, who, you must remember, will be the United States Senator for the State of New York for the next five years, and wields some influence in Washington.

Governor would come down here and call his friends together and talk with them, it would be a good deal like the old days when Senator Platt was in town most the time and had his Sunday school meetings, and with fifteen or twenty Re-publicans, important all over the State discussed impending legislation at Albany. From the pathway for Gov. Odell, it seems to me, is clear, not only to bring honor to disself and his friends, but victory to the blican party in the State next year Gov. Odell, his friends said last nig was ambitious. One of his friends w on to ask: "But how can Gov. Odell way" Then another friend of Gov. Odell spoke up.

"Gov. Odell tells me," he said, "that his future is all behind him, because of Theodore Roosevelt."

Still another Republican who talked,
Still another Republican who talked, who is familiar with what is going on, i. "No man's future is behind him. Governor makes a great mistake in talking that way, and makes a great mistake in meddling in the petty little details of the official patronage of the State of York, whether to harm or to help

FATHER SANDER COMES BACK. Denies Instnuations of Misconduct and Tells About That Trotter.

The Rev. George W. Sander, pastor of St. Leonard's Roman Catholic Church in Williamsburg, who recently acquired some notoriety because of his ownership of a trotting horse at Far Hills, N. J., returned home last night after an absence of three days. After consulting his lawyers he made this statement: "I have been away from the city for the last three days on a matter of business and during that time was in ignorance of the stories that have been circulated con- deserted her a year and a half ago. She cerning my character. I wish to state most emphatically that the accusations made in some of the newspapers are absolutely false.

"As all my friends and acquaintances know, I have always possessed a good horse, and during the past year I have boarded the horse on a farm in New Jersey. I would occasionally go there to see the mare and her colt, but all other details of the story, including any statement supposed to come from me in reference to the woman who acted as housekeeper for the the door: owner of the farm, are absolutely false. My friends and my people have stood by me lovally, and I assure them that their confidence in me has not been misplaced and that I have never acted in a manner unbefitting my priesthood. I shall take other means to establish the falsity of the insinuations made against me."

Father Sander will say 6 o'clock mass this morning. Mrs. Crescentia Seibel, the sister of Mrs. Mamie Kipp, who has been acting as housekeeper for George Peck at the stockfarm at Far Hills, where she was known as Mrs. George West, said yesterday at her home in Chester Park, Jamaica, that she had received a letter from her sister from New York in which Mrs. Kipp said that owing to the notoriety she had obtained in connection with the stories published about Father Sander, she thought it best to return to Far Hills, GERONIMO JOINS THE CHURCH. Not the Methodist, as Was Reported, but the Dutch Refermed.

FORT SILL, Oklalons, Nov. 20 .- The story circulated several months ago that Geronimo had become a member of a Christian church is true. He did not become a Methodist, as was told, but joined the Dutch Reformed Church, to which President Roosevelt belongs. The Rev. Frank H. Wright, a Choctaw citizen, and the Rev. Walter C. Roe, missionary at Colony, both ministers of the church to which is committed the spiritual welfare of the Apaches, held a series of meetings last July at Loces Camp near Medicine Bluff and administered baptism to a large number of Apaches.

At one meeting, when the usual invitation was extended to persons who wished to unite with the church, Geronimo went forward. He was examined by the two missionaries and Prof. J. T. Bergen of Hope College, at Holland, Mich., and questioned closely as to his understanding of the idea of one God and the atonement of Christ, and was asked if he was willing to abandon all Indian superstitions and wart-Halfbreed fight, twenty years ago,
"Senator Platt has had implicit faith in
Gov. Odell. No man, according to Gov.
Odell, was more responsible for his reOdell, was more responsible for Platt stood what was required of bim and that he was in earnes' The Rev. Mr. Roe said that his answers and promises were such as to forbid their refusing admission. He was baptized by sprinkling. Reports from his village say that he seems really to be trying to lead a better life. He attended a mission among New York he is quite welcome to the place, the Comanches after his conversion and but he must win the place." sat in the front seat.

WOMAN'S HAIR IS GREEN. Strange Tale Told by Bellevne Doctors

of a Patient in the Alcoholic Ward. According to the Relievue doctors there is a woman in the alcoholic ward at that institution who is suffering from a mysterious ailment which has turned her hair green. The patient is also suffering from overindulgence in narcotics, the doctors

She is Adelaide Semley, 65 years old, of 243 West Sixty-sixth street. The woman was taken to Bellevue late on Thursday night in a Roosevelt Hospital ambulance. Dr. Hyde, who admitted her to the hospital, diagnosed her case as one of nervousness due to the use of opiates and had her placed in the female branch of the alcoholic ward. Dr. Hyde said last night that he didn't pay any attention to the woman's hair at the time, but was astounded when, early vesterday morning, he passed her cot and saw that her hair resembled in color a wellkept lawn in the month of May. "What have you been using on your hair?" asked Dr. Hyde. The patient answered that she had never in her life put anything on it other than into the river. plain, ordinary water. "Well, I don't want to frighten you," said the doctor mildly, "but your hair is

"I know that," said Miss Semley. "It has been that way for nearly two years." Dr. Hyde rushed to the doctors' quarters in the struggle the policeman's collar was and summoned Dis Hamilton and Smith to go with him to the alcoholic ward and view he wonderful sight. They both agreed that the woman had real green bair.

Before long every dector in the institu ion had inspected the patient's hair and had asked many questions concerning it. The woman, they say, told them that she had been afflicted with violent headaches for several years, and that her hair began to change in color about two years ago. At first, she said, it resembled corroded copper, but gradually turned to its present state. The story was told to the Believue Hospital reporters by several doctors last night; in fact, all of the doctors vouched

STROMBOLI VOLCANO ACTIVE. Lava Flowing From a New Crater-Ashes Thrown Out.

Special Cable Despaich to THE SCN ROME, Nov. 20 .- The Stromboli volcano, on the island of that name in the Mediteranean, is in a state of eruption, and is throwing out rocks and ashes, accompanied by violent explosions. A new crater has opened, from which lava is flowing.

Thanksgiving Dinner Not complete without Dewey's Wines. Order early to insure delivery. Send for descriptive price list. Dewey's, 133 Pulton Street, New York

Chy. -Adv The Beautiful Susquehanna and other entrancing scenery along the Lehigh Valley R. R. to Buffalo and Chicago.—Adv.

ROW OVER SUPPOSED HUSBAND

MRS. REYNOLDS MAKES TROU-BLE FOR HIS DOUBLE.

Mr. Reynolds Deserted Her About Two Years Ago and She Mistook Another Man for Him-He Had to Go to a Police Station to Straighten It All Out.

Mrs. Florence Reynolds of 684 Lexington avenue went shopping yesterday and about noon was riding south in a Sixth avenue surface car. Mrs. Reynolds's husband met him on an ocean liner two years ago and there was a short courtship and a marriage. The couple lived together two months and then he disappeared. When the car upon which Mrs. Reynolds was riding stopped at Twenty-third street to let the passengers alight, Mrs. Reynolds gave an exciamation of surprise. Going out of the car door with half a dozen other passengers was a man whom she took for the deserting husband. She Jumped from her seat and screamed as she neared "There he is. The villain deserted me. The man whom she pointed at had left the car and was ducking around the back of it to get across the street. When he saw the excited woman trying to reach him, witnesses say, he quickened his steps. Mrs. Reynolds ran after him as he crossed the street and her cries brought Policeman Barry to her side. To the policeman Mrs. Reynolds pointed out the man she was pur-

"That man is a wretch," she yelled excitedly. 'He's a bigamist. He had four wives when he married me and I was the fifth. Oh, how could be be such a villain?" The man stood looking at her in open mouthed astonishment. His face became red and white by turns. Policeman Barry asked him what he had to say for himself.
"Well, I'm crazy, or some one else is," he said with an effort. "I never saw that woman before. I'm married all right, but I'll be damned if that woman is my wife."
"You wretch!" retorted Mrs. Reynolds.

"You ought to be in jail."
"Now, see here, madam," said the man,
"this has gone far enough. I am not your husband, and I don't mind every one around here knowing it. There was another outburst from Mrs. Reynolds. She insisted that the man was her long-lest husband, and said that he could not bluff her into thinking he wasn't. Policeman Barry told the man that he would have to take him to the Tenderloin

All the way there Mrs. Reynolds kept all the way there are Reynolds actor calling her supposed husband names, and telling him what a horrid, miserable man he was. The man could hardly re-strain himself. He declared repeatedly that a great mistake had been made and that the person who was respectable for it ought to be made to suffer.

to be made to suffer.

Sergeant Place had to listen to the declarations of both the men and the womanin the police station and he was in a quandary. He sat behind the desk Solomon-You rascal," said Mrs. Reynolds to the man, "my mother knows you." Sorgeent Place said the only way he could Sorgeent Place said the only way be could suggest to cettle the matter was to send for her mother and anyone else she wanted to help corroborate her identification. Mrs. Reynolds said her mother was Mrs. Lettia Kreizer, with whom she lived. She also told where Martin Weise, a friend of her family, could be found. They were sent for and asked to hurry to the Tenderloin station.

Meantime the man in the case said he was Rufus Price, 40 years old, a waiter of 116 Lawrence street. He was allowed to sit in the back room to wait for the two witnesses to appear. Mrs. Reynolds stayed where she could keep her eye on him. If withering glances could do a person physical vithering glances could do a person physica

e was in terture. When Mrs. Kreizer appeared Price was called out where she could lock at him. She trained a pair of eagle eyes on him and walked all around him before giving her decision. When she looked him over thoroughly she said to her daughter: "That is not your lusband."

Even then Mrs. Reynolds would not see her mistake. She was trying to convince her mother that she was wrong when Weiss, he family friend, arrived. He looked at the family friend, arrived. He lo Price and sided with Mrs. Kreizer.

"Your husband was a head taller and a bigger man in every way," Weiss said to Mrs. Reynolds. "He had a large nose and Mrs. Reynolds. "He had a large nose and higher cheek bones."
"Maybe he had," said Mrs. Reynolds tearfully," but I thought I had the villain."
Price was promptly discharged. He had recovered his composure when Mrs. Kreizer and Weiss told Mrs. Reynolds she was wrong. As he started for the door he said to the woman who had made him so much trouble.

so much trouble:

"Madam, when you go hunting for your husband again you had better take a foot rule."
Mrs. Reynolds let his remark go unan-

MERCHANT IN THE RIVER. William Hollingsworth Fights With

Rescuing Cop to Drown. Policeman Murt Shea noticed a man valking about West street at 10 o'clock last night muttering to himself. The man was well dressed, and Shea decided to follow him. On seeing the policeman turn after him the stranger ran to the bulkhead at the foot of Perry street, and before Shea could catch up with him jumped

The policeman plunged in after him in full uniform, without even removing his helmet. He grabbed the man and struggled with him in the cold water for about ten minutes. The stranger tried to release himself from Shea's grasp, and

The cries of the two men awoke Capt. John Patterson, who was alseep on a coal barge near by and he threw a rope to Shea. It was fastened about the would-be suicide s waist, and he was pulled out on the deck of the barge. Even then he gave the two a lively fight. While Patterson held the man pinned to the deck Shea ran to a West street saloon and called an ambulance, which took him to St. Vincent's Hospital.

There the man said he was William Hollingsworth, 50 years old, living at 252 Hudson street. He told the doctors that he was a member of the firm of Hollingsworth & Kip, manufacturers of brushes, at 447 and 449 Greenwich street. He would give no explanation for his act. The cries of the two men awoke Capt.

explanation for his act.

In his pockets were found several checks and a large sum of money. He also had some jewelry and a gold watch and chain. William T. Kennedy, a lawyer who lives at 252 Hudson street, said last night that Hollingsworth had lived there for about two years.

years.

Mr. Kip said last night that he went into business with Mr. Hollings worth four years ago, but disagreed with his partner, and several weeks ago B. F. Weiss was appointed to the several weeks ago B. F. receiver. It was arranged that Kip should withdraw.

"The creditors met to-day and agreed that the finances of the firm were very satisfactory," he said. "In fact, there was never any trouble on that score.' AT THE HORSE SHOW The best people smoke

PALL MALL London Cigarettes For the Connoisseur.—Adv Brotherhood Champagne magnificent -- Ade

TROOPS ORDERED TO THE MINES. NAVAL STATION FOR OUR AID? Armed Strikers at Telluride, Col., to Keep Men From Going to Work.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 20 .- Gov. Peabody ordered to-day 500 militiamen to go to Telluride at once, and, although it was officially announced that they would leave to-morrow, 300 started by special train this afternoon. A. M. Wrench, president of the First National Bank of Telluride, said: "The situation at Telluride is extremely menacing. The unions have armed pickets in front of all the mining properties and have testified in court that they are there to see that the men do not go to work. The men have received mysterious notices to leave town. All contain threats and are generally unsigned.

"The reason that you have not heard of riot and disturbances at Telluride is because the business interests have felt it wise to lie down on the proposition for a time and to make no resistance to the overbearing action of the unions. The business men knew that if they asserted their rights there would be trouble, and they preferred a peaceable adjustment of the difficulty, even by conceding some things to the unions; but the time for continuing this policy has passed. We would reopen the mines, but could not do so without troops. It would be dangerous to life and property to attempt such a thing without the troops

SAYS HE WAS SANDBAGGED.

Man Found Unconscious in the Stree Telis of a Daring Robbery. Harry Schmidt, 32 years old, of 686 West

Forty-seventh street, Brooklyn, was taken to the Hudson s reet hospital last night suffering from contusions of the head and abdomen. He says he was sandbagged and robbed.

Schmidt is a salesman for G. C. Engle at 99 Barclay street. He had been out collecting bills yesterday and at the time he was robbed had over $100 in his pockets. At 7:45 o'clock, Schmidt says, he left his office to go to the Thirty-ninth street ferry on his way home. An hour and a half later he was found by Policeman Berje of the Church street station lying on the pavement at Dey and Washington streets. When Schmidt was able to talk, he said that he had been attacked by two men, one of whom was well dressed. The other had on overalls. One of the men asked him for a match, Schmidt said, and while he was fumbling in his pocket for it the man hit him in the stemach. Before Schmidt could recover from the force of the blow, he was hit on the head with a sand bag. He could not recall anything further that occurred until he was found by the policeman. When Schmidt was able to talk, he said policeman. ponceman.

The police are inclined to doubt his word.
They say it would be impossible for a man to lie on the sidewalk at the place where Schmidt was found for an hour and a half and not be discovered either by a passerby or a policeman at that hour of the night.

WIRE TAPPERS UNDER THE GUN Jerome Sleuths Get the Bank Roll and the Swindlers. District Attorney Jereme was visited esterday by a business man, who told him how he had been swindled out of $4,900 by a fake wire-tapping game. This man's name is known to the District Attorney. but he has agreed not to make it public at this time. Mr. Jerome turned the victin over to his assistants, Mr. Lord and Mr.

Corrigan. week ago he had met in a Broadway hotel scheme to beat the races. The business man was introduced to an alleged Western Union operator, and then was taken to the house at 88 West Thirty-ninth street. After several visits there he dropped $4,900.

He told the bunco men he would bring around a friend with plenty of coin and put him against the game.

Mr. Lord and Mr. Corrigan sent for De tectives Fritchman and Burton of Capt. Piper's staff. They also called in County Detective Reardon and Central Office Detective Rappolt. The man who had been swindled had an engagement with one of the confidence men yesterday afternoon, and it was agreed that he should introduce Detective Fritchman as his friend. The pair, followed by the others, went to a salocn at 135 Broadway In the saloon Fritchman and the victim found the man they were looking for. He later gave the name of William Crane, but the police say that this is only one of several names he is known under. There was another man with Crane, whom he intro-duced as William McCormick, a telegraph operator, the man who provided the advance information on the results of the

When it was learned that Fritchman had money and was willing to bet it on a sure thing, the four men left the saloon and started uptown. McCormick left them at the Western Union building and hurried in these saving he had to get to work at the western Union building and nurried in there, saying he had to get to work. Fritchman, the victim, and the swindler went direct to the Thirty-ninth street house. The party from the District Attorney's office trailed them.

In the back parlor of the Thirty-ninth treet house there were twenty man. Sitstreet house there were twenty men. Sit-ting at a table was a man with several big rolls of bills in front of him. Behind a partition could be heard the click of a telegraph instrument. Crane, the steerer, said he was an operator, and when he got a "flash" from McCormick over the poolwhen the sidled up to the detective and whispered "Zelba," the name of a horse running at Latonia. Fritchman made a $50 bet with the man who had the bank roll. The fifty dollar bill had been marked. When the man who took it stowed it away in one of his piles Fritchman grabbed all the money and pointed a revolver at the Meantime the victim had run to a front window and given the signal to the waiting ones outside. They kicked down the front door of the house and entered the poolroom

The first man in the place was Detective Reardon. Crane, the steerer, evidently recognized him, and pitched into him. Crane was soon subdued.

Crane was soon subdued.

The other men who were wanted were then taken into custody. There were three of them besides Crane. They said that they were Fred Graham, Benjamin Bartlett and James Brady.

Graham was the man who had the bank roll. He declared that he had $4,200, but all his captors could make out of it was $3,159. One roll of bills was marked $5,000. had a $100 wrapper and forty-eight ones

The last three prisoners were locked up charged with keeping and maintaining a poolroom. That charge was made against Crane, too, but he was also held for assault and for swindling.

The telegraph instrument was connected to a battery on the second floor, and the wire went no further. Deerfoot Farm Sausages.

SANTO DOMINGO, IN DIRE NEED, MAY APPEAL TO US.

Insurgents Still Shelling the Capital, and France Has Landed Marines to Protect Her Legation Once Invaded-Night Conference at the White House.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

From THE SUN Correspondent at Santo Domingo. SANTO DOMINGO, Nov. 20 .- Artillery fire is going on night and day between the Government forces and the insurgents who are besieging this city. Many noncombatants have been killed by the rebel Marines have been landed from the French warship in the harbor here to protect the French legation.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs has gone to Washington. The diplomatic relations with the United States are good. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 .- The State Department received a despatch to-night from Mr Powell, United States Minister at Santo Domingo, saying that a French war vessel had arrived at Santo Domingo City and was landing marines to protect the French consulate. This action may have a bearing on the fact, mentioned in his previous reports, that the Dominican authorities had forcibly entered the French legation and taken from it two refugees. who were put in prison. The violation of the sanctity of a legation is a serious

Secretary of War Root and Secretary of the Navy Moody went to the White House after 9 o'clock to-night and were in conerence with the President for a long time. Their presence may have some connection with the landing of the French marines, as no news in regard to the Panama situation that would require any action by the War and the Navy departments was received here to-day. The cruiser Baltimore is at Santo Domingo City and the gunboat Newport is due to arrive there.

Senor Galvan, the Dominican Consul-General in New York, is said to be in Washington to-night, and it is rumored that he will offer the United States the use of Samana Bay for a coaling station either by

During the day the State Department gave out a depial that there is any agreement or understanding with the Dominican Government in regard to the tession of Samana Bay to the United States, and ridicules the story that the present Dominican insurrection was caused by an arrangement of that sort. The explanation was made also that the recognition of the insurgents will depend upon reports from United States Minister Powell as to whether they have established a de facto government capable of maintaining order. In a report to the State Department dated Oct. 30, Minister Powell says that the revolution is due to disappointment on the part of Gov. Morales of the province of Puerta Plata because he did not get a Cabinet appointment. With other malcontents he declared rebellion.

TRUCE IN CHICAGO STRIKE. Plan of Arbitration Being Outlined and

Men May Go Hack to Work To-day. CHICAGO. a smooth talker, who told him of a new garded only as a matter of hours. After to-day Counsel Iliss, for the City Railway | the cold. and Atterney Darrow, for the strikers, were intrusted with the task of conferring and ou lining a common ground which should The two attorneys will report back to serve as the foundation for arbitration. the Aldermanic mediation committee tomorrow, when an announcement of the settlement will be made.

It was learned that the company had made two propositions to the union. These are: That the company shall have the right to discipline and discharge its employees as it shall choose, but this shall not be construed to mean that any discrimination is made against union men or non-union men; that the company shall formulate the methods by which grievances of its employees shall be adjusted in the future. The understanding was that the company laid down these two propositions as the basic principles which must be granted by the union before further negotiations could be entered upon In return the trainmen submitted a proposition in regard to arbitration of the age scale.

Mr. Darrow said that the men had acepted the proposition of the company with immaterial modifications.

In their turn the men submitted a proposi ion on the routing of cars. All sorts of "settlement" rumors were on the street to-night. One story had it that the men would return to work tomorrow. Messrs. Bliss and Darrow were still in conference late to-night. More cars than on any other day in the strike were placed in operation by the City Railway to-day, and the police details had little to do.

TO ADVERTISE PHILADELPHIA. $100,000 to Make the City Known in the Back woods. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—The newly of ganized Merchants and Travellers' Association has a tlan for a campaign of advertising, entailing an expenditure of $100,000. which will soon be laid before the business men of this city by the committee on publicity of the association. It is intended to devote a considerable part of this fund to attracting public notice by means of the Philadelphia newspapers.

The formation of a $100,000 fund will be suggested, each firm or individual to subscribe $100. This fund will include not only wholesals merchants, but jobbers, retailers and in fact every class of business man who may care to enjer. The money man who may care to enter. The money is to be expended in a wholesale distribution of circulars, the preparation of a weekly news latter to every weekly newspaper in the country, and in the possible publication of a magazine devoted to the interests of Philadelphia and its merchants.

It is expected by this means to reach hundreds of thousands of readers and convince them that Philadelphia has decided advantages in many respects over other dvantages in many respects over other Banker Fish's Slayer to Serve His Term The Appellate Division affirmed yesterday the conviction of Thomas F. Sharkey, who killed Nicholas Fish, the banker, a year ago in Ehrhardt's Café at Thirty-fourth street and Eighth avenue. Sharkey With increasing knowledge of the danger to health through carelessly prepared food, consumers grow more fastidious in their selection. "Deerfoot" means purity, daintiness, cleanliness. was sentenced to ten years imprisonment for manslaughter in the second degree.

KAISER'S POOR HEALTH. Doctors Advise Him to Go South for the Winter.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. spondent says that Emperor William has been advised to spend the winter in the south, and that he will probably comply with this advice after Christmas.

MUSTN'T READ THE BIBLE.

Nebraska Supreme Court Commands That It Be Discontinued in the Schools.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 20 .- A peremptory writ of mandamus was issued to-day from the Supreme Court, commanding the discontinuance of the reading of the Bible in the schools of District 21, Gage county. It was a test case. The court said that there is nothing in the law, Constitution or history of the people upon which to ground the claim that it is the duty of the Government to teach religion. It is immaterial whether the objections of a parent are unreasonable. The right to be unreasonable is guaranteed by the Constitution. The trustees affected say that they will refuse to obey the mandate and will subfect themselves to contempt of court and its penalties before discontinuing the reading of the Bible.

REAL BABE IN TOYLAND.

Somebody Stowed Her Away in a Majestic Theatre Box and Fled.

Just before the curtain went up last night on the first act of "Babes in Toyland," at the Malestic Theatre, Peter Lynch, an ucher, heard a faint cry from the direction of a box on the lower right hand side. He found a baby hidden behind the curtain that separates that box from the adjoining one. The child was taken to Bellevue Hospital and placed in the foundling ward. It is a girl and is exceptionally well dressed. The doctors say it is about 7 days old. The clothing consists of a white cordurey coat over a long white dress of the child's neck held a small heart-shaped gold locket, inside of which there was long black hair, evidently that of a woman. At the hospital the baby never cried, but smiled most of the time. The nurses say it is the best natured foundling that has ever been brought to the institution. The folks at the theatre say they have reason to suspect a man who purchased seat 105 M as the one who placed the foundling in the box. He was suspiciously fat when he entered the theatre, and an usher says that he left his seat before the house had begun to fill, and seemed to inspect the boxes. After the child was found it was discovered that he had disappeared.

WOMEN DASHED ON AN ISLAND. Tried to Rescue Old Man Who Went Over Palls-Daring Rescue by Boatmen.

YORK, Pa., Nov. 20 .- Caught in the swift current of the Susquehanna River while crossing in a small boat from Fallsville, this county, a man thought to be Samuel Hoover, 70 years old, was carried over the Conewago Falls and drowned.

Mrs. Clara Brothers, his daughter, and Miss Amy Nathit, his granddaughter, saw him from the shore battling with the current and attempted to reach him in a row-

Just as the man's boat was carried over the falls, the boat occupied by the women was caught in the current and dashed upon the rocks of Raccoon Island, where a joint conference in the Mayor's office the two women passed the day exposed to The flooded condition of the river and > bination, and for several hours no one dared to try to reach the island. The women could be seen waving their handkerchiefs to the crowds lined up on each Late in the afternoon, at the risk of their lives, two river men succeeded in reaching > prisoned women. They were benumbed with cold and nearly exhausted. TO COURT OVER A BURIAL.

Butler Objects to Placing His Father Body in a Catholic Cemetery. George Howard Butler of 66 Pierrepon street, Brooklyn, applied to Supreme Court Justices Scott and Blanchard yesterday for an injunction to restrain his stepmother, Mary Egan Butler, of 170 West Ninety sixth street, from burying his father, Asabe

S. Butler, in a Catholic cemetery. Mr. Butler wants his father buried in the family plot in Greenwood and says that he frequently expressed a wish to be buried there. Mrs. Mary Butler, who is a Catholic, says that her husband agreed to become a Catholic, and she believes that she should have the disposal of the body. The court reserved decision, but permitted the widow to place the body in a receiving vault at Calvary Cemetery. Asabel S. Butler died on Nov. 16. He was formerly employed in H. B. Claffin's.

CLAUS SPRECKELS ILL. Report That He Has Had a Second Strok of Apoplexy. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Claus Spreckels the millionaire sugar king, who is regarded as the richest man on the Coast, is ill, and his age and the fact that he recently had a stroke of apolex; make his condition critical. Spreckels suffered an apopleo ic stroke just after his return from a trip abroad, and it is rumored that the present illness is due to a second stroke, which has so affected his throat that he is unable to speak This report is denied by his eldest son, John D., who says that his father will soon be out and that his condition excites no fear. Claus Spreckels is 75 years old.

MILLER AND JOHNS ESCAPE.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 20.-Former Assistant Attorney-General Daniel V. Miller and Joseph M. Johns, charged with conspiracy to bribe, were found not guilty to-night shortly after 9 o'clock. The jury was out six hours.

This was the second trial of the case. The first, six weeks ago, resulted in a disagreement. Turf Commissioner John J. Ryan was the chief prosecuting witness in the verdict was returned. Florida East Coast Hotel Co. has opened a book-ing of ce. 221 Pitth Ave., cor. 26th, St., N. Y. C.—Ade. herein provided for, shall be appraised and

CANAL TREATY TEXT

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The Potsdamer Corre- Sovereign Rights Granted Over Isthmian Strip.

FREE PORTS AT EACH END

Cities of Panama and Colon Not Included in the Grant.

United States Guarantees the Independence of the New Republic-Canal to Be Neutral-Panama to Get $10,000,000 in Cash and $250,000 a Year After Nine Years-Will Lease or Sell Us Naval Stations if They Are Desired -Provision for Sanitary Regulations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 .- Following is the treaty between the United States and the Republic of Panama for the construction, maintainance, operation, sanitation and protection of a ship canal across the Isthmus of Panama, and the use, occupation and control in perpetuity of the zone of land through which the canal will be dug, signed at Washington on Nov. 18, by Secretary of State Hay for the United States and Minister Bunau-Varilla for the Republic of Panama:

"The United States of America and the Republic of Panama being desirous to insure the construction of a ship canal across the Isthmus of Panama to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and the Congress of the United States of America having passed an act, approved June 18. 1902, in furtherance of that object, a copy fine linen. The under garments are of of which is hereto annexed, by which the embroidered fignnel. A blue ribbon ground | President of the United States is directed to acquire within a reasonable time the control of the necessary territory of the Republic of Colombia, and the sovereignty of such territory being actually vested in the Republic of Panama, the high contracting parties have resolved for that purpose to conclude a convention and have accordingly appointed as their plenipotentiaries, the President of the United States of America John Hay, Secretary of State, and the Government of the Republic of Panama, Philippe Bunau-Varilla, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Republic of Panama, thereunto empowered by said Governments, who, after communicating with each other their respective full powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon the follow-

"Article I .- The United States guarantees and will maintain the independence of the Republic of Panama. "Article II.-The Republic of Panama grants to the United States in perpetuity the use, occupation and control of the zone of land and land under water for the construction, maintenance, operation, sanitation and protection of said canal of the width of ten miles extending to the distance of five miles on each side of the centre line of the route of the canal to be constructed; the said zone beginning in the Caribbean Sea, three marine miles from mean low water mark and extending the Isthmus of Panama into the Pacific Ocean to a distance of three marine miles from mean low water mark, with the proviso that the cities of Panama and Colon and the harbors adjacent to said cities which are included within the boundaries the swift current made a dangerous comof the zone above described shall not be included within this grant. The Republic of Panama further grants to the United States in perpetuity the use, occupation and control of any other lands and waters outside of the zone above described which may be necessary and convenient for the construction, maintenance, operation, sanithe island in a boat and rescued the imtation and protection of the said canal or of any auxiliary canals or other works necessary and convenient for the construction, maintenance, operation, sanitation and protection of the said enterprise. The Republic of Panama further grants to the United States in perpetuity the use, occupa-tion and control of all islands within the limits of the zone above described and in addition thereto the group of small islands in the Bay of Panama named Perico

> Naos, Culebra and Flamenco. "Article III.-The Republic of Panama grants to the United States all the rights, power and authority within the zone mentioned and described in Article II. of this agreement and within the limits of all auxiliary lands and waters mentioned and described in said Article II., which the United States would possess and exercise if it were the sovereign of the terrritory within which said lands and waters are located to the entire exclusion of the exercise by the Republic of Panama of any such sovereign rights, power and authority

"Article IV .- As rights subsidiary to the above grants, the Republic of Panama grants in perpetuity to the United States the right to use the rivers, streams, lakes and other bodies of water within its limits for navigation, the supply of water or waterpower or other purposes, so far as the use of the said rivers, streams, lakes and bodies of water and the waters thereof may be necessary and convenient, for the construction, maintenance, operation, sani tation and protection of the said canal.

"Article V .- The Republic of Panama grants to the United States in perpetuity monopoly for the construction, mainenance and operation of any system of communication by means of canal or railroad across its territory between the Caribbean Sea and the Pacific Ocean.

*Article VI.-The grants herein contained shall in no manner invalidate the titles or rights of private landholders or owners of private property in the said zone, or in or to any of the land or waters leased or granted to the United States by provisions of any article of this treaty, nor shall they interfere with the right of way over the public roads passing through the said zone, or over any of the said lands or waters unless said rights of way or private rights shall conflict with the rights herein granted to the United States, in which case the rights of the United States shall be superior. All damages caused to the owners of private lands or private property of any kind by reason of the grants contained in this treaty or by reason of the operations of the United States, its agents or employees or by reason Miller was overcome and sobbed when | of the construction, maintenance, operation, sanitation and protection of the said canal or of the works of sanitation and protection